The past 6 years have been in the MT & L team and prior to that 4 years focusing on the Retail & Wholesale sector.

Mark Bryant, Business Growth Fund

Mark Bryant is a member of the BGF Investment Committee and has over 30 years’ experience in Industry, primarily as the Managing Director/CEO of a number of global manufacturing businesses, ranging from instrumentation, sensors to rigid plastic packing, covering sectors from aviation, automotive, process, oil and gas, metrology to personal care. Export throughout the world has been a consistent aspect of all the Companies. Mark has sold a number of the Companies he has led and has successfully integrated bolt on acquisitions.

Mark is based in Edinburgh and supports the investment team nationally to assess the operational capability of investees and works closely with management teams to maximise profitable growth.

Dr Phil Fiddaman, University of Hertfordshire

Prior to joining the University of Hertfordshire (UH) Phil worked as a post-doctoral researcher in applied plant pathology at the University of Nottingham and then went on to the SME Biotech arena with MicroBio Ltd (now Becker Underwood) as a Product Development Manager; one of his roles was as a TCS supervisor for 12 months. Since this introduction to knowledge transfer (KT) Phil has been part of a team of Knowledge Transfer Coordinators (KTCs) at UH for five and a half years and a further 2 years leading the team as a Senior KTC.

More recently Phil has spearheaded the development and successful launch of the University’s own KT product, Knowledge for Business (K4B).

Alex Bennett, Smart Currency

Alex kick-started his career in international payments by joining Smart Currency as its very first dedicated Corporate Currency Consultant. Since then, he has quickly progressed to his current role as Head of Corporate Sales, where he oversees a team of seven. Having evolved with the company, Alex has gained in-depth appreciation of all aspects of Smart Currency’s operations. In just one of his areas of expertise, plastics manufacturing, he has helped dozens of British firms establish effective risk mitigation strategies and cost-effective currency solutions to help drive operations forward.

Todd McCully, GGTC

Todd has been with GGTC for over two years and is responsible for GGTC’s business development through strategic alliances. Trained as a Bachelor of Business at La Trobe University Melbourne (Australia), with majors in Marketing and Management Studies, Todd has worked extensively across all aspects of the R&D model giving him a breadth and depth of knowledge in the scheme that enables him to quickly and expertly identify client claim opportunities as well identifying areas GGTC can significantly maximise the claim value for companies already claiming under the scheme.
