This seminar will provide delegates with a better understanding of the various elements required to create and maintain an electrically safe working environment for staff, contractors and visitors to their premises.

The main issues covered will be; the new Health and Safety offences Act 2008 and how it will affect the Duty Holder, the Electricity at Work Regulations 1989, insurance issues, the levels of competence required to work safely and the need to implement electrical safety programmes in order to satisfy the demands of the law and defend your position.

The seminar is a must for all ‘duty holders’.

Electricity kills and injures people. Around 1000 electrical accidents at work are reported to the HSE each year and about 25 people die of their injuries.

Health and Safety Executive
Electrical Safety in the Plastics Workplace
A BPF Health & Safety Seminar

SPEAKER BIOGS:

Ian Carnall I.Eng, MIIE (Elec)
Business Development Director, Connaught Compliance Electrical services Ltd

Ian started life as an N.G Bailey Apprentice in 1977, gaining recognition from the Engineering Council as an Incorporated Engineer in 1997. He started his own electrical safety company in 1989, culminating with his appointment as NAPIT MD. Ian joined NECTA (now Connaught Compliance Electrical Services) in 1998 challenged with growing an electrical safety organisation and is today Business Development Director at Connaught Electrical turning over £20m and employing 350 staff.
