Dr Jean-Yves Cherruault, Sustain
Dr Jean-Yves Cherruault is the manager of Product and Supply Chain at Sustain and is a successful chartered mechanical engineer and environmental consultant. He is educated to PhD level with over 12 years of UK based professional experience in project management, consultancy, research and development. Jean-Yves has provided technical input and assisted in the coordination and management of EU collaborative research and development projects. This included DTI Eureka! and EU SAVE programmes within the sustainable transport, energy efficiency and renewable energy sectors. He has also advised and supported FTSE 100 organisations on carbon compliance schemes such as the EU Emissions Trading Schemes, Climate Change Agreements and CRC. He has also led carbon management strategies at product and organisational level.

Richard Laming, British Soft Drinks Association
Richard Laming is Media Director of the British Soft Drinks Association, the national trade association representing the interests of producers and manufacturers of soft drinks including carbonated drinks, still and dilutable drinks, fruit juices and smoothies, and bottled waters.

Bob Lisney, ACP
Bob is a self employed consultant who specialises in providing strategic policy advice and business development to public, private and voluntary sectors.

He is the Chairman of the Government’s expert committee on packaging Previously Bob ran his own consultancy business, LRL, after a long and successful career in the public sector working for Hampshire County Council where he was instrumental in the development of the award winning public/private network of 13 local authorities and contractors known as Project Integra to recover and process Hampshire’s waste.

He uses his wide experience and transformational skills to work strategically with clients that include Government, Local Government, Trade Associations, and a range of private sector companies

Bruce Margetts, RPC Containers
Bruce has been involved in manufacturing plastics Packaging for 25 years, encompassing all the key conversion technologies. Bruce has spent the last 14 years at RPC Containers. He was initially responsible for an extrusion and thermoforming factory and is currently responsible for the RPC UK injection moulding businesses at five sites across the UK.

Andrew Speck, Marks & Spencer
Appointed in 2007, Andrew has worked as both Packaging Buyer and also in his current roles as Commercial and Environmental Packaging Manager for the Food Group. Previous experiences in a number of packaging related roles, in branded and non-branded food businesses, has given Andrew a rounded view of the global packaging industry.

Since joining, Andrew has driven The Marks & Spencer Plan A sustainable packaging commitments to the current high levels, ensuring high performance reporting standards for the How We Do Business CSR report. He leads the foods packaging sustainable sourcing strategy, ensuring that key materials are available today and for the future. Andrew also supports the external communications of Marks & Spencer’s progress, engaging with National and Local Government in the UK along with WRAP and other key stakeholders.
